

IMPOSSIBLE ODDS

Andy Blanc, better known as "The Odds", is a Brooklyn native and creator of the rare "ImpossibleOdds Gentleman Hip-Hop" style, a one-of-a-kind musical genre that extenuates deep, meaningful lyrics over fresh, crisp beats that exude a sound of sophisticated artistry.

Backed by his supporting band "The Odds Band," Odds brings the world a unique jazz-influenced style with roots in classical, golden era hip-hop.

The debut release "Pristine" introduces the first act of the lavish American fantasy "An Odd's Tale, a classic visual album portrayed by intellectual words, swanky beats, and cinematic visuals.

WATCH NOW

HIGHLIGHTS

- 2021 European Tour headlining in London, Paris, and Berlin. Currently resides in historic Fort Greene, Brooklyn
- Has had spins at Hip Hop Thursdays at the legendary Webster Hall Grand Ballroom
- Performed as the house band for acclaimed comedic parody "Bit Tank: Comedy Meets Capitalism" and was featured in The New York Times' "Comedy Shows to Catch in NYC"

NOTABLE PERFORMANCES

- The Millennial Mixer at the Barclays Center Billboard Lounge, an event to encourage the youth to vote
- The annual Mustachio Ball, a hip hop, jazz, and fine cuisine event to promote men's health
- Maria Davis' infamous Mad Wednesdays at The Shrine in Harlem
- The Annual Central Brooklyn Culture Arts Walk at Prospect Park
- The famous Red Rooster in the heart of Harlem
- And plenty more popular venues

INTERNATIONAL PERFORMANCES

- Headlining at Swag Jam in Berlin, Germany
- Soho House in London, UK
- Sundaze At Boxpark in conjunction with RCRD Shop in London,UK
- Upstairs at The Ritzy in London, UK
- Toulouse Lautrec Jazz Club London, UK

VISIT IMPOSSIBLEODDSMUSIC.NYC

